

Article Submission Instructions

GENERAL

Article subject matter should be a combination of the author's opinion and facts on newsworthy developments and events in orthopaedic practice. Topics to explore are: controversy, advocacy, regulatory environment, practice management issues/trends, and challenges in the field. Send all article materials and communications via email, with attachments as needed, to the Touches Managing Editor, Kimberly Collignon, kcollignon@datatrace.com.

ARTICLE REVIEW

Once an article is submitted for consideration it becomes the property of the WOA, and WOA reserves the right of first refusal. WOA reserves the right to make final determinations without author approval as it deems appropriate in the editing, formatting, and publication of all submissions.

FORMAT

Articles must be original, unpublished, well-written, and interesting to broad categories of WOA Membership. Please submit your original 150-200 word article in electronic format (Microsoft Word is preferred) as a separate email attachment (do not place the text within the body of an email). In addition, please include: (1) a suggested title for your article and (2) your name and affiliation as you would like it to appear within the article.

Authors may include links and/or 1-2 references to additional or supporting information for further reading purposes.

IMAGES

Authors who wish to submit an image (or images) to accompany an article should ONLY use non-copyrighted material. Images in the public domain or taken/created by the author are acceptable. Images should be submitted as separate, high-resolution, PDF, JPEG or Tiff files. DO NOT place images within the word processing document.
